

“True community is based upon equality, mutuality, and reciprocity. It affirms the richness of individual diversity as well as the common human ties that bind us all together”

~ Rev. Dr. Pauli Murray

@ncarchaeology @paulimurraycenter @ncarchaeology @paulimurrayproject

For more information visit archaeology.ncdcr.gov

NORTH CAROLINA OFFICE OF STATE ARCHAEOLOGY 2019 ARCHAEOLOGY MONTH

TROWEL BLAZERS WOMEN MAKING HISTORY

Dr. Pauli Murray was an attorney, civil rights activist, Episcopal priest, and author. Pushing the social boundaries of her time, she used her voice to fight for equal opportunity throughout her life. Her childhood home in Durham is being archaeologically explored by UNC-Chapel Hill and the Pauli Murray Center.

Join the OSA this October in honoring the contributions of women, like Dr. Pauli Murray, to North Carolina archaeology and history. All events are free and open to the public!

EVENTS

October 12 - "Arch in the Park" Public Archaeology Day 11:00am-2:00pm, Pullen Park 408 Ashe Avenue, Raleigh

Learn about how we do archaeology, why it is important, and how to get involved in the field with engaging hands-on activities!

October 18 - Perspectives of Women in NC Archaeology 3:00pm-4:30pm, NC Museum of History 5 East Edenton Street, Raleigh

Join us as we host a panel of NC female archaeologists in the private and public sectors to discuss their diverse experiences in the field.

October 18 - Archaeological Meet & Eat 5:00pm-7:00pm, North Street Beer Station 521 W North Street, Raleigh

Get to know your state archaeologists and colleagues while enjoying some delicious food in a fun and laid-back atmosphere!

Frank C. Curtin/Associated Press via WUNC North Carolina Public Radio